

Creating your Everence bulletin board

Guidelines for your congregation

As an Everence advocate for your congregation, you want to help people manage their finances in line with their faith values. Here are suggestions on how to set up a bulletin board in your congregation to help connect your members with Everence and its stewardship services.

Title place card
Everence headline

Poster
Gives people a quick overview of Everence and names you as advocate. Make sure you fill in your name on the poster.

Tending the vine brochure
An overview of Everence, its mission and services. (Recommended)

Pockets
For resources that your members can take with them.

Let's grow together vine tool
A tool to explain how Everence can help them manage their finances.

Your team flier
The group of Everence representatives who can help your members.

- Other brochure choices
- Take control of your finances
 - Everence Foundation
 - Credit union
 - Fund college with our private student loan
 - Membership benefits
 - Other current brochures

Getting started

To bring together the components for your board:

1. Purchase your own bulletin board (24"x36") or find an equivalent amount of space on a current bulletin board.
2. Order Everence materials from your church relations representative.
3. Buy pockets for your board: Sample shown is a Martha Stewart Home Office™ with Avery™ pocket, available at Staples® for as low as $5.99.

If you have questions about this bulletin board concept, contact your church relations representative.

