

403(b) Retirement Plan

A 403(b) retirement plan permits employees of certain tax-exempt 501(c)(3) organizations to contribute a portion of wages into a tax-favored retirement plan. No income taxes are incurred until you withdraw the funds – usually at retirement.

Eligibility

You must be a full- or part-time employee of a qualified employer to participate in a 403(b) plan. Qualifying organizations include religious and charitable organizations, churches, public schools, private and parochial schools, colleges, universities, and hospitals.

Tax advantages

You don't pay income taxes on the money you invest in the 403(b) plan until disbursements are made from your account. Also, the dividends you earn on your investments are not taxed until they are withdrawn from the account.

You can choose

With a Praxis 403(b) Retirement Plan, you decide how much you wish to contribute and how you wish to allocate your investments.

Making contributions

Your completion of the Salary Reduction Agreement authorizes your employer to reduce your salary by the amount you indicated. Those funds are then forwarded to Praxis for investment into your account.

Because the salary reduction reduces the income you report to the government for income tax purposes, your 403(b) contributions are tax-deferred (until withdrawals are made).

Contributions

The maximum salary reduction contribution you can make to your 403(b) is 100 percent of your income, not to exceed the following limits:

Year	Limit
2019	$19,000
2020	$19,500

In addition, if you are age 50 or older any time during a tax year, you can contribute additional amounts each year as follows:

Year	Limit
2019	$6,000
2020	$6,500

If your employer contributes any amount to the plan, then the maximum you and your employer can contribute is 100 percent of income not to exceed $57,000 in 2020. Call your representative or Praxis for more information. Contributions in excess of these limits are subject to taxes. It is the employee's responsibility to ensure that contributions do not exceed the maximum allowance.

Adjusting your investment

You may change the amount you invest in your 403(b) account by completing a new Salary Reduction Agreement form and giving it to your employer.

To change your investment choices or to exchange shares between the various Praxis Mutual Funds, call (800) 977-2947 or access your account online at praxismutualfunds.com.

Withdrawing your funds

Withdrawals from your account may begin when you reach age 59½, become disabled, terminate your employment, or experience extreme financial hardship. All funds withdrawn will be taxed as ordinary income. Withdrawals prior to age 59½ may be subject to a 10 percent penalty tax.
